

Funeral Ceremony

Dear Friends,

It is with deep regret and sadness that we must say farewell to our beloved Yadullah Khosroshahi, whose untimely death has left a great sense of loss in all our hearts. He passed away on Thursday the 4th of February, 2010. A long standing socialist and activist of the Iranian Labour movement, he was also a devoted husband, a loving father and wonderful grandfather. Alongside his family responsibilities, Yadullah dedicated his life to the workers' struggle against capitalism and for the emancipation of all exploited people.

To commemorate his life, please join my family and I on Friday the 19th of February at The Penridge Suite, 470 Bowes Road, New Southgate, N11 1NL.

The ceremony will start at 5.30pm, ending at 9.30pm. The nearest tube station is Arnos Grove, the nearest train station is New Southgate and can be reached by buses 34, 184, 232, 251 and N91.

The funeral will be from 2 pm to 3:30pm at Trent Park Cemetery, Cockfosters Road, Cockfosters, Enfield EN4 0DZ. The nearest tube station is Cockfosters.

Best Wishes,

Jahan Khosroshahi

Please send your sympathy messages to alliance@workers-iran.org and to Yadullah's son at pc.fixed@email.com.
