

May Day Seminar

The capitalist ruling classes in Europe, America and Asia have made clear their intentions: They wish to force workers to pay for the consequences of the crisis. They have begun widespread and far reaching attacks on the living standards, working conditions and rights of us all. More than ever, therefore, workers must find ways to unite against the capitalist class and its states. It is the only way to defend our rights, repel these attacks and end our exploitation.

This seminar is completely non sectarian; open to all who know that we are part of an international labour movement, in particular, those who strive to establish international solidarity between workers, to defend our rights and crush the state of capitalism.

Speakers:

Alex Gordon: Working class movements in UK

President of the Rail, Maritime and Transport workers (RMT)

Anne Alexander: Working class movements in Egypt

Labour movement activist and a member of Socialist Workers Party

Ayob Rahmani: Working class movements in Iran

Labour movement activist, a member of IASWI

Further speakers (Tbc)

Date: Friday, May 4, 2012

Time: 18.00 – 22.00

Address:

Venue: SOAS, University of London

Room: G3, (TURN LEFT AT THE ENTRANCE)

Thornhaugh Street, Russell Square, London WC1H 0XG

Underground: Russell Square